Prize Letters Trades Day

Why Trade at Okolona Rather Than With Mail Order Houses

First Prize

There is unity in strength—unity of town and country. Their interests are inseparable, each dependent on the other for success and prosperity; and this is the first and principle reason why we should trade with home merchants.

In doing so we keep the money at home, put it in circulation among our own people, promoting their happiness and prosperity, instead of going to increase the wealth of strangers.

Buying at home builds up home industry. Prosperous merchants make prosperous farmers and vice-versa.

The more trade the merchant gets the less profit he can afford to make, thereby giving his customers better bargains.

When we buy at Okolona we have the goods before us to examine at our leisure and can be sure we have just what we want in quality, style and fit, while on the other hand we wait two weeks for a shipment. It comes, proves unsatisfactory and must be returned after much worry of waiting, repacking and shipping.

We can exchange our produce for goods if money is scarce, and our merchants are ever ready to accommodate us. They are our friends, they feel a personal interest in our welfare, they have made it possible for us to have a near market for our produce, possible for us to procure such things as we need or desire without tedious delay.

They sell goods as cheap, all things considered, as we can get them elsewhere, minus the worry and disappointments of unsatisfactory shipments.

Then let us unite and work together for the upbuilding of our home interest both town and country, for in union is strength.

Mrs. W. H. Gregory

Second Prize

Why trade in Okolona rather than with mail order houses? Why that is easy from my point of view.

I like to look at what I buy, not just at the picture of it. And then we never know how old an article is when we order it. Why, I read of a fellow once who ordered a pair of pants from one of the biggest mail order houses in the United States. He looked through the pockets and found a little note in one of them and it read like this "Whoever finds this little letter will find a sweetheart by writing to Miss C-A-B." The fellow thought how lucky he was to get a girl so easily, but imagine his feelings when, instead of a nice little love letter in reply, he got a pretty good beating up from the girl's husband. And when it was all explained, it was found that the girl had written the letter fifteen years before, when she was working in a pants factory.

I like to trade in Okolona for lots of reasons. I sell my produce in Okolona—poultry, eggs, butter fruits and vegetables, and if the merchants buy my stuff why it is nothing but right for me to buy from them. We can buy perfectly nice fresh groceries in Okolona at all times. She is up to date in every respect you can get most any garment you want ready made at prices that would shame a mail order house.

I like to trade in Okolona because I meet so many friends, town friends and country friends. You see if I had ordered the things I would have had to stay at home, and there in Okolona I have so many things to choose from and generally much cheaper than any mail order house, and the biggest reason of all I can buy them on a credit.

Mrs. L. E. De Merville.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Fish-Crighton

One of the most beautiful weddings ever in Okolona, and one of unusual interest, was solemnized at the Presbyterian Church on the evening of October twenty-eighth, at six o'clock when Miss Margaret Crighton became the bride of Mr. Harry A. Fish.

The church was artistically decorated in ferns, southern smilax and chrysanthemums. Graceful garlands were carried from a large mirror in the center of the pulpit to tall white columns on each side, forming a canopy of evergreen, under which the brides maids and groomsmen stood in a semi-circle completing a picture of the rare loveliness. From windows on opposite sides of the church, garlands were taken, crossing in the center, where a large wedding bell of white chrysanthemums was hung.

Before the arrival of the bridal party, Mrs. Harvey Lee Morrison sang "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling" and in her rich soprano that never fails to charm her listeners. She was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. D. F. Morgan.

The strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin were softly played by Mrs. L. E. Fish, mother of the groom, as the bridal party entered. Mrs. Morrison sang "O Promise Me", during the ceremony.

The ushers were Messrs. Clifford Chandler and Allen Dean.

The bride entered on the arm of her sister, Mrs. Harry Crighton, who was her first Matron of honor. She also had as matrons of honor, Mrs. H. H. Goyer, of Belmont, Miss., and Mrs. R. B. McEachin, of Muldon.

Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Elbur Crighton, and her brides maids were Misses Mary Lucile Chandler, Katherine Murfee and Mildred Baskin. The groom was attended by Mr. Haughton Sansom as best man and Messrs. Jack Sansom, Ed Elias and Dr. E. Q. Withers as groomsmen.

The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. A. L. O'Brian, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The bride was beautiful in her bridal robes of Georgette crepe with pearl trimmings.

The maid of honor was gowned in yellow crepe de chine and black picture hat and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

The matrons were gowned in white satin and short veils and carried yellow chrysanthemums while the brides maids wore white taffetta gowns, and black picture hats and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Crighton and has spent all of her life in this city, where she has many dear friends who wish her abundant happiness.

The groom is a young man of sterling worth, who has made Okolona his home for several years and has won many friends.

The popularity of this young couple was attested by the numerous and beautiful presents, prominent among which was a gorgeous chest of silver, the gift of their attendants.

Immediately after the ceremony a dinner party was given the bridal party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Morrison.

Just the Right Present

Don't take chances in the matter of Christmas presents. You don't want yours, like so many others, to be received with indifference or worse, and ten days after Christmas to be cast aside and forgotten.

You take no chance in giving The Youth's Companion for a year.

Did you ever know of a home in which it came amiss, or of one in which it was not conspicuous on the library table or in some one's hands all through the year?

It is worth while to make a gift of that sort, and it is worth while to receive it, too, for the Companion illustrates the best traits in American life in its stories and sketches, upholds the best standards in its articles and contributions, and combines the practical and informing with the entertaining and blood-stirring.

If you do not know the companion as it is to-day, let us send you one or two current issues free, that you may thoroughly test the paper's quality. We will send also the Forecast for 1916.

Every new subscriber who sends $2.00 for the fifty-two weekly issues of 1916 will receive free all the issues for the rest of 1915 and The Companion Home Calendar for 1916.

Calomel Today, Sick Tomorrow

Dose of nasty calomel makes you sick and you lose a day's work

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.
